

Complete this TD1 form if you have a new employer or payer and you will receive salary, wages, commissions, pensions, Employment Insurance benefits, or any other remuneration, or if you wish to increase the amount of tax deducted at source. Be sure to sign and date it on the back page and give it to your employer or payer who will use it to determine the amount of your tax deductions.

If you do not complete a TD1 form, your new employer or payer will deduct taxes after allowing the basic personal amount only.

You do not have to complete a new TD1 form every year unless there is a change in your entitlement to personal tax credits. Complete a new TD1 form no later than seven days after the change.

You can get the forms and publications mentioned on this form from our Web site at www.ccr.gc.ca or by calling 1-800-959-2221.

Last name	First name and initial(s)	Date of birth (YYYY/MM/DD)	Employee number
Address including postal code		For non-residents only – Country of permanent residence	Social insurance number

1. Basic personal amount – Every resident of Canada can claim this amount. If you will have more than one employer or payer at the same time in 2004, see the section called "Income from other employers or payers" on the back page. If you are a non-resident, see the section called "Non-residents" on the back page.

2. Age amount – If you will be 65 or older on December 31, 2004, and your net income for the year will be $29,124 or less, enter $3,912. If your net income will be between $29,124 and $55,204 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2004 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.

3. Pension income amount – If you will receive regular pension payments from a pension plan or fund (excluding Canada or Quebec Pension Plans (CPP/QPP), Old Age Security, and guaranteed income supplements), enter $1,000 or your estimated annual pension income, whichever is less.

4. Tuition and education amounts (full-time and part-time) – If you are a student enrolled at a university, college, or educational institution certified by Human Resources Development Canada, and you will pay more than $100 per institution in tuition fees, complete this section. If you are enrolled full-time, or if you have a mental or physical disability and are enrolled part-time, enter the total of the tuition fees you will pay, plus $400 for each month that you will be enrolled. If you are enrolled part-time and do not have a mental or physical disability, enter the total of the tuition fees you will pay plus $120 for each month that you will be enrolled part-time.

5. Disability amount – If you will claim the disability amount on your income tax return by using Form T2201, Disability Tax Credit Certificate, enter $6,486.

6. Spouse or common-law partner amount – If you are supporting your spouse or common-law partner who lives with you, and his or her net income for the year will be $681 or less, enter $6,803. If his or her net income for the year will be between $681 and $7,484 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2004 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.

7. Amount for an eligible dependant – If you do not have a spouse or common-law partner and you support a dependent relative who lives with you, and his or her net income for the year will be $681 or less, enter $6,803. If his or her net income for the year will be between $681 and $7,484 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2004 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.

8. Caregiver amount – If you are taking care of a dependant who lives with you, whose net income for the year will be $12,921 or less, and who is either your or your spouse's or common-law partner's:

- parent or grandparent age 65 or older, or
- relative age 18 or older who is dependent on you because of an infirmity, enter $3,784. If the dependant's net income for the year will be between $12,921 and $16,705 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2004 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.

9. Amount for infirm dependants age 18 or older – If you are supporting an infirm dependant age 18 or older who is your or your spouse's or common-law partner's relative, who lives in Canada, and his or her net income for the year will be $5,368 or less, enter $3,784. You cannot claim an amount for a dependant claimed on line 8. If the dependant's net income for the year will be between $5,368 and $9,152 and you want to calculate a partial claim, get the Worksheet for the 2004 Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1-WS) and complete the appropriate section.

10. Amounts transferred from your spouse or common-law partner – If your spouse or common-law partner will not use all of his or her age amount, pension income amount, tuition and education amounts (maximum $5,000), or disability amount on his or her income tax return, enter the unused amount.

11. Amounts transferred from a dependant – If your dependant will not use all of his or her tuition and education amounts (maximum $5,000) or disability amount on his or her income tax return, enter the unused amount.

12. TOTAL CLAIM AMOUNT – Add lines 1 through line 11. Your employer or payer will use this amount to determine the amount of your tax deductions.

Deduction for living in a prescribed zone

If you live in the Northwest Territories, Nunavut, Yukon, or another prescribed zone for more than six months in a row beginning or ending in 2004, you can claim:

- $7.50 for each day that you live in the prescribed zone; or
- $15 for each day that you live in the prescribed zone, if during that time you live in a dwelling that you maintain, and you are the only person living in that dwelling who is claiming this deduction.

For more information, get Form T2222, Northern Residents Deductions, and the publication called Northern Residents Deductions – Places in Prescribed Zones.

Additional tax to be deducted

You may want to have more tax deducted from each cheque, especially if you receive other income, including non-employment income such as CPP or QPP benefits, or Old Age Security pension. By doing this, you may not have to pay as much tax when you file your income tax return.

To choose this option, state the amount of additional tax you want to have deducted. To change this deduction later, you will have to complete a new Personal Tax Credits Return.

Reduction in tax deductions

You can ask to have less tax deducted if you are eligible for deductions or non-refundable tax credits that are not listed on this form (for example, periodic contributions to an RRSP, child care or employment expenses, and charitable donations). To make this request, complete Form T1213, Request to Reduce Tax Deductions at Source, to get a letter of authority from your tax services office.

Give the letter of authority to your employer or payer. You do not need a letter of authority if your employer deducts RRSP contributions from your salary.

Non-residents

If you are a non-resident of Canada, tick this box and answer the question below. If you are unsure of your residency status, call the International Tax Services Office at 1-800-267-5177. Non-resident

Will you include 90% or more of your world income when determining your taxable income earned in Canada in 2004? If yes, complete the front page. If no, enter "0" on line 12 on the front page and do not complete lines 2 to 11 as you are not entitled to the personal tax credits. Yes No

Income from other employers or payers

Your earnings may not be subject to tax deductions if your total income from all employers and payers for the year will be less than your total claim amount.

Will your total income for the year be less than your total claim amount on line 12 on the front page? Yes No

If you have more than one employer or payer at the same time and you have already claimed personal tax credit amounts on another Form TD1 for 2004, you can choose not to claim them again. By doing this, you may not have to pay as much tax when you file your income tax return. To choose this option, enter "0" on line 12 on the front page and do not complete lines 2 to 11.

Provincial or Territorial Personal Tax Credits Return

In addition to this Form TD1, you may have to complete a Provincial or Territorial Personal Tax Credits Return.

If your claim amount on line 12 on the front page is more than $8,012, complete a provincial or territorial TD1 form in addition to this form. If you are an employee, use the TD1 form for your province or territory of employment. If you are a pensioner, use the TD1 form for your province or territory of residence. Your employer or payer will use both this form and your most recent provincial or territorial TD1 form to determine your tax deductions.

If you are claiming the basic personal amount only (your claim amount on line 12 on the front page is $8,012), do not complete a provincial or territorial TD1 form. Your employer or payer will deduct provincial or territorial taxes after allowing the provincial or territorial basic personal amount.

Note: If you are a Saskatchewan resident supporting children under 18 at any time during 2004, you may be entitled to claim the child amount on the 2004 Saskatchewan Personal Tax Credits Return (TD1SK). Therefore, you may want to complete the TD1SK form even if you are claiming the basic personal amount only on the front page of this form (your claim amount on line 12 is $8,012).

If you entered "0" on line 12 on the front page because you are a non-resident and you will not include 90% or more of your world income when determining your taxable income earned in Canada in 2004, do not complete a provincial or territorial TD1. You are not entitled to the provincial or territorial personal tax credits.
